SEEN, HEARD AND TOLD

(By Andrew Whitaker)

We are happy to have Mrs. Guy James as correspondent from Pleasant Grove.

Tom Neely has got to be about as bad as Spivey Kent about fishing!

I bet about half of those who got divorces last week are already fixing to get married again.

We understand that one of our part-time helpers and friend, Griffis Meek, had a narrow escape the past weekend. It seems that Grif ate some mushrooms, thought to be the good-kind, but what proved to be the poisonous kind. We are happy to report that Grif is doing ok now.

See where in just a year or so, the foreign market for U. S. cotton will be no more. It seems that the US Government has taught its foreign market-countries enough about raising cotton and GIVEN them enough equipment, that they have become self-supporting, as far as cotton is concerned.

It seems that the U. S. wants to be "sugar daddy" to the rest of he world.

Mrs. Albert Hayward, one of the pretty Pyron girls, came in Wednesday and renewed. The Haywards are now getting their GCW at Lodi.

Bud Chapius is single AGAIN. He says that now "Marrying Maranville' is just five up on him. At the rate Bud is going he figures to pass Maranville record for marrying before he calls it quits. Where Bud and Maranville differ is that Maranville has to pay for his divorces; Bud just sits back and let his wives divorce him. He says it's cheaper that way!

We hope to get the ballots for the November 8 General Election printed this weekend. IF anyone wants to vote an absentee ballot, go by the Circuit Clerks office about next Monday.

A list of the officers to hold this 'election' will be published next week

Carl "Tramp" Lantrip, another of of our part-time helpers, says that now "girls have begun to fight over him." Tramp is a 'wheel' alright!

Dick Long reported catching some mighty nice crappie in the upper-part of Grenada Lake one day last week.

We are again indebted to Sister and Daughter Dorothy for getting up so much news for the paper.

A lot of Grenada people were seen at the Ole Miss-Arkansas football game in Oxford last Saturday. To list them by name would take up this whole column!

Fred Griffin has the new 1956 Cadillac on display at his place on Growing Green.

Duck Stamps may be obtained at the Grenada Post Office, according to Donald Sharp, postmaster. Duck hunters had better get them now, remember last year, they ran-out of stamps here!

Large flocks of geese have been seen on and passing over Grenada Lake the past week.

We were wrong last week in stating that Mr. Pulliam had taken his retirement from the ICRR.

Lewis Marascalco (Jockle) seems to be in the apple business in a big way.

The oil-men of Grenada County will meet Monday night at the Central Cafe. 7:30 is the time.

Tom King, sheriff-elect, came in and renewed the other day.

Mrs. O. W. Scott, Sr. of Duck Hill and Mrs. F. B. Neely of Grenada, also renewed.

See where Bill Manscoe has bought the Shell dealership from' A. L. Jackson.

Mrs. Edwin Ellis renewed her subscription while here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Irby.

Grif Meek says that he is through with toad stools.

Fred always likes to see his name in the paper, so here it is J. Fred.

Judge Holmes Presides Over Chancery Court Here

Judge Herbert Holmes, chancellor of the Third Chancery Court District, last week presided over the dissolution of 18 Grenada County marriages, authorized the commitment of a lady drug addict to Whitfield and ruled on miscellaneous other disputes in the fall term of Chancery Court which closed here late Wednesday.

Other court officials were: Byron Hunter, chancery clerk; S. L. Davis sheriff and James T. O. Day, court reporter.

The bonds of matrimony of the following couples were "dissolved and held for naught":

Guy Ray Weir vs. Kathleen James Honeycutt Weir, divorce decree granted and custody of minor child awarded to mother;

Clyde Morgan vs. Irene Caldwell Morgan, final decree granted;

Lura Rose vs. Francis Dewit Rose, divorce decree granted and minor child awarded to custody of mother;

Madie Mae Ganey vs. Leonard Virgil Ganey, divorce decree granted;

Virginia Chapuis vs. John A. Chapuis, divorce decree granted;

Wesley Dean Huggins vs. Suzanne L. Schlayer Huggins, divorce granted;

Mrs. Ina Tollison Grantham vs Arthur Grantham, divorce granted;

Thelma Austin Hardin vs. Ottis Hix Hardin, final divorce decree granted and custody of infant child awarded to mother;

John Kegler vs. Alberta Vance Kegler, divorce granted;

Corinne Lott vs. Geary Lott, Africans, divorce granted;

Betty Jean Perry vs. Willard M. Perry, divorce granted;

Betty Frances Nations vs. Henry Harvey Nations, divorce granted and custody of child given to mother;

William W. Gant vs. Ruth Eloise Wright Gant, divorce granted and custody of child awarded to mother;

Mrs. Kathleen T. Oakley vs. Marvin J. Oakley, divorce granted and children awarded to custody of mother;

Rowland Ross vs. Gensie Taylor Ross, divorce granted;

Mary Phelan Brown Houston vs. Samuel L. Houston, divorce granted and custody of minor child awarded to mother;

Betty B. Whitten vs. James P Whitten, divorce granted and custody of children awarded to mother;

In addition to making "sole, single and unmarried" individuals out of couples, the Court also ruled on these cases:

B. J. Anderson vs. Tom Lott - it appearing that settement had already been made, the cause was dismissed at the complaintant's costs;

Granville B. Thompson's child support payments were authorized to be reduced from $60 to $40 per month;

Mike C. Campbell, 20, and Robert E. Campbell, 19 were declared legally of age and empowered to do all acts and make such contracts or engage in any profession that they could do if they were 21 years old. The judge termed them "well poised young men and thoroughly capable of managing their own affairs."

The court authorized the divorce of Perry Shook and Florence Louise Shook. Further, Judge Holmes ruled that the children of their marriage remain with John H. Sanders and his wife, Doris C. Sanders. Mr. Shook was given visitation priveleges.

In all divorce cases in which the mother was awarded custody, the fathers were granted visitation priveleges.

Allowances to officers of the court for services the three days totaled $1,320.

(Delayed from Last Week)

You may never know of the enormous amount of news and information to be found in a newspaper until some day when you find more time on your hands than you can use. Holed up in a hospital room for instance or perhaps spending some time in the back country on a lonely vacation. It is a shame to be able to only read the headlines or the big stories on page one, because the real news about life and how it is lived will be found spotted around on the inside pages. Personally I like to read the advertisements and the classified ads. In these brief little messages you will be able to almost feel the footsteps of the human family as they sweep along with time. If you should read an ad offering for sale a slightly used baby bed, rocker, or stroller you know somewhere at some time a little one has slipped out of this life and left behind all those things devoted parents had gathered together for the comfort and happiness of Johnny or Susan whom they do not have with them anymore. Of course all the ads do not denote sadness. Often we read about new parents wanting to buy a carriage for twins or they may advertise for a swing or a tricycle and that tells you some kid is about to be made happy. Will never forget seeing one of these little ads some years ago which made me feel sad. "Lost . . . one skinny hound dog, one leg off, had a string around his neck.'

Cairo, Egypt. "Surveys show that young Egyptian women want to choose their own husbands and this has caused misgivings among the marriage-brokers who make careers of matchmaking." Boy, we bet its a difficult job to go out and find a young man who will measure up to Ma's and Pa's ideal for their darling little daughter. No matchmaker living could have made a deal with us for our brown-eyed Gerry. In fact I kept Gerry scared to discuss it with me until she was 22 but finally she stubbonly asked me this question "Daddy how old was mother when you married her?" And that did it, because the truthful answer had to be "she was 18½."

Some notes from my Sunday School Devotions:

In the early part of the 5th century the emperor sought to punish the preacher, Chrysostom. His advisers however could think of no way to hurt him. They reasoned that if they exlied him, God would still be with him, and if they killed him he would then be with God. They said there is only one way in which to make Chrysostom miseable and that was to make him sin because Chrysostom feared nothing in the world but sin.

A preacher asked his grandson to go with him for a walk saying we will go out today and preach. After walking over the town, speaking with people most friendly and kindly they returned home. They boy said "I thought you were going out to preach." The preacher replied 'we have.'

In the time of Napoleon a man was conscripted for military service but he told them, "You cannot take me I have served and died once for my country". They first laughed at him but they looked up his record and found sure enough when he was drafted he had obtained a lawful substitute who fought and was killed in battle. The emperor freed the man from service because his substitute had paid his debt for him.

A man was talking over long distance from a booth but the party on the other end of the line said "I can hardly hear you. you are in such noisy surroundings close the door." Which is to say when we stand midst a boisterous and wicked world and are so much a part of it, God can't hear our prayers. —Fed.

Self-Portrait

Lesson for October 30, 1955

THERE are people who don't care how they look to other people; they have no particular long-range plans or pattern of life, they live (as they might say) by ear. We call such persons extraverts; they never stop, so to speak, long enough to look into a mirror. There is an opposite kind of person who is painfully interested in himself. He is forever looking into a mirror, as it were. He makes the most careful and detailed plans and is quite upset when a detail goes wrong. We call such persons introverts. In between these types is a more balanced sort of person. If one could "type" Jesus of Nazareth he would be the balanced sort, by all means. He was self-conscious enough to know and care what he was doing, but not in the least self-centered.

Dr. Foreman

Action Portrait

Jesus once had the opportunity, which to some young people is a rather frightening thrill, of speaking to a crowded audience in his own home town. He knew what was in nearly everybody's mind: "Give an account of yourself. Who do you think you are and what do you think you are doing?" To them he was just a home-town boy; but they had heard of strange things he had said and done, and they wanted to hear him talk. So he had the opportunity on a Sabbath Day of speaking in the synagogue. As he read the Scripture for the day, from Isaiah 61, Jesus stopped in the middle of a sentence, and sitting down (as teachers did in those days) he said, "Today this Scripture has been fulfilled . . ." In other words, as Americans would put it. This is it. This is my plan of life. This prophecy, hundreds of years old, describes what I am and what I am doing. In short, Jesus took this prophecy to himself, as a self-portrait. It is more like a motion picture than a still picture; it expresses what he was, in terms of what he did.

For Others

That, by the way, is typical of the Bible way of describing people. Adjectives like "good," "merciful," "truthful," always have verbs behind them. Adjectives describe actions. A man does not have one kind of character and another kind of action. His actions are his character,—not his external actions alone, but together with the motives and intentions which are a true part of every act. Now Jesus describes himself and his plan for life not only in terms of action, but of action in relation to other persons. John Wesley says somewhere that when Christianity ceases to be social it is not any longer Christian. The idea that any one can become a higher type of Christian by retiring permanently from the world, devoted exclusively to prayer and contemplation, is a notion not derived from Jesus. For him, the meaning of life is in contact with other persons. But note the sort of person Jesus mentions: the poor, the captives, the blind, the bruised . . . the very people so many of us avoid. Most people jump at the chance to get their pictures taken with famous people. Jesus' self-portrait was a picture of him with obscure people, people in trouble. What would happen in a community if every church member became more interested in doing something for people than in "doing" people?

For All Others

What really enraged those churchgoers of Nazareth was not that Jesus was dedicated to helping others. That was fine, they were all in favor of it. The thing that raised them to murder-heat was that he drew no lines. He was for helping one and all, yes even Gentiles. What Jews of that day thought of Gentiles is expressed in a passage from a popular book written about the same time as the New Testament: "For our sakes you (God) made this first-born world. But as for the rest of the nations which are sprung from Adam, you have said they are nothing and are like spittle." (II Esdras 6:56). So when Jesus made it clear that he (like Elijah and Elisha before him) would draw no race or national lines, that he intended to carry God's love to the last and least of men, these race-proud Nazarenes threatened to lynch him.

—AREA FORESTER'S NOTES—
(By J. H. Burnham)

With the opening of the squirrel season on the 15th of October, many sportsmen will be taking to the woods of Mississippi to enjoy some hunting. Along with the joy of hunting, however, there comes a great danger - the danger of forest fires.

It seems that when the hunting season starts the number of forest fires increases. Why is this? There are two reasons. First of all, dry weather goes along with the hunting season. This means that leaves, limbs and other material in the woods will burn easier than at any other time of the year. Secondly, there are just more people in the woods during the hunting season than at other seasons of the year.

When people are out in the woods trying to get a few shots at some sly game animal they are naturally thinking about hunting and it is mighty easy to be a little careless about the use of fire. Sometimes they don't stop to realize that when fire burns over the woods valuable timber is lost and the food supply and living places of game animals are lost. Hunters are going to be in the woods by the thousands during the next few months and it is important to be careful with fire.

Here are some suggestions for preventing forest fires. Before building a campfire, clear a good-sized area of all leaves and other matter that might burn. When ready to leave the fire, it should be drowned. Ashes from cigarettes, pipes and cigars should be crushed. Matches should be broken before throwing them on the ground.

Remember, carelessness is an important cause of fires in the woods. Through careful use of fire the forests can be preserved and good conditions for game animals can be provided.

D. A. R. HOLD OCTOBER MEETING

The October meeting of the Grenada Chapter of the Daughters of the Aremican Revolution was held Friday, Oct. 21 in the home of Mrs. J. C. Holloman, Hoffa Heights, with hostesses Mrs. G. M. Garner, Mrs. B C. Duncan, Mrs. J. B. Perry, Jr. and Mrs. G. D. Rundle assisting.

23 members were present.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. E L. Wilkins, vice regent, leading the DAR ritual. Prayer was opened by Mrs. T. B. Revell Jr. The entire group pledged allegiance to the United States flag. Mrs. Wilkins gave the American Creed.

Committee chairmen submitted their reports.

The Chapter unanimously voted to invite Mrs. Edgar Reed to become a member.

Mrs. L. J. Doak serving as program chairman introduced Mrs. Sam Simmons who gave a report of the President General's message. Mrs. C C. Carpenter told some significent points on National Defense.

Mrs. Doak presented Mrs. J. H. Mitchell, Jr. who had the main topic of the afternoon - "Meet Thomas Jefferson." In a charming and interesting manner the speaker carried her audience to the early period of this country's history and vividly portrayed this great man of yesteryear

The following is a brief summary of Mrs. Mitchell's remarks:

"Thomas Jefferson, the man who was our first Secretary of State, the second vice president and the third president, was a man of unusual versality, a bristling intellect, author of the Declaration of Independence and founder of the University of Virginia He was an accomplished writer, architect, inventor, lawyer, farmer, musician, and wood-craftsman.

Thomas lived with his mother Jane Randolph and his father Peter Jefferson at Shadwell Plantation, Va Thomas did not suffer the hardships of real pioneer life; he knew only the pleasures of being reared in the woods for there were many slaves to do the chores."

In 1772 Thomas Jefferson married Martha Wales Skelton. Losing his wife early, he was an unusually tender and loving father to his two daughters.

"Thomas Jefferson was elected to be the author of the Declaration of Independence because he was recognized as a legal artist.

All in all he was a popular president although like all political figures he had many enemies. At the age of 66 he retired to a happy life at the magnificent mansion, Monticello with his daughter, Martha and her family.

In Jefferson's retirement he never suffered from boredom for he had learned early in life never to be without an interesting occupation. His greatest accomplishment after his retirement was his founding of the University of Virginia.

Jefferson died when he was 83. John Adams passed away the same day and his last words were "Thomas Jefferson Will Live Forever."

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses after which the meeting was adjourned.

George Granberry Jr., son of Mrs Margaret Granberry of Grenada, has been promoted to supervisor of several salesmen with the Quaker Oats Co. and is to be transferred to Kansas City, Mo. right away. Help The TB Fund, Is Urged

"Tuberculosis is the cause of great suffering to families right here in Grenada County" said Miss Mary Ella Collins, Seal Sale Chairman "Christmas Seal funds could not come anywhere near paying for the cost of treating al the TB patients in this county. Contributions are spent to prevent TB. Used to teach people how to keep well, to find the unknown cases of TB, to help patients return to useful, happy lives, and to support medical research, our Christmas Seal dollars will speed the day when TB will no longer take its toll in the homes of our county" she said.

The TB Seal Campaign, which will be held from November 16 through December, will raise funds to support the Association's tuberculosis control activities.

Grenada County Association has placed a major emphasis on Buying Xay films for the health department, paying transportation to Magee for patients who are unable to pay, and on assistance to the rehabilitation program.

170 Industrial Prospects brought into Mississippi Towns

Remembering the old adage that "Seeing is Believing," Mississippi Power & Light Company's fully staffed Department of Development is not satisfied with just telling industrial prospects about Mississippi.

Since 1950, personnel of this department have taken some 170 such prospects on personally guided tours of various communities located in the company's 46-county territory.

These visits not only give the prospect an opportunity to view first hand Mississippi's advantages as an industrial site but also make it possible for local groups and citizens to help sell their respective communities.

This cooperative effort has resulted in the location of over 100 major industries in Mississippi Power & Light Company's territory since 1950, thereby providing gainful employment for thousands of Mississippians and bringing millions of dollars of invested capital into our state.

4-H Poultry Day Held Here Saturday

The annual 4-H Poultry Show and Sale was held in the square in Grenada Saturday at 10 a. m. on October 22.

Seven boys and girls throughout the county participated in the show Each boy and girl delivered their birds to the square at 9 a. m. The pullets were left on display for the public until 10 a. m., at which time a very short program began.

Ray McGee started the program by announcing the purpose of the meeting; the judges were then recognized and introduced. The following served as judges:

Mr. Earl Cantrell, Vocational Agri Teacher at Gore Springs; C. O. Sennett, County Agent, and Donald Skelton, Associate County Agent of this county. Miss Bervil Elder, Home Demonstration Agent, served as bookkeeper for the sales.

After the coops of 12 birds were judged, the ribbons were placed on the cages: four blue ribbons, 1 red ribbon, and two white ribons. Earl Cantrell announced the placing of the irds and then gave the reasons why the placings were made.

Just before the birds were auctioned off, Ray McGee gave a brief history of the Chain, which is sponsored by Sears Roebuck Co. Mrs. Grace Martin was recognized as the Manager of the Sears Order Office here in Grenada. Reasons for the placings were also repeated and plans for awarding the prize money were announced, which will be the night of our 4-H Club banquet early in December.

C. O. Sennett acted as auctioneer and did a splendid job. The birds sold at a fair price; blue ribbons averaged about $2.50 each, red ribbons about $2.35, and white ribbons about $1.75 each.

The following persons bought pullets: Mrs. Herman Blair bought 12 blue ribbon and 12 red ribbon birds; Mr. George Woods bought 12 blue ribbon birds; Mr. Fred Lickfold bot ght 11 blue ribbon birds; Miss Fay Parker bought 12 blue ribbon birds: Mr. Ben McElwrath, 6 white ribbon birds; Mr. Clyde Hill 18 white ribbon birds. All of the birds sold were fine pullets, although the blue ribbons had been fed some better and were delevoped a little better. If any of the birds are cared for properly, they will make good layers.

The 4-H boys and girls who showed their birds were as follows Carl Clark of Holcomb showed a blue ribbon, Carl Cohea of Gort Springs, a blue ribbon; Miss Mary Elizabeth Davis, blue ribbon; Robert Lott of Gore Springs showed a blue ribbon Franklin Robinson of Gore Springs showed a red ribbon; Jerry Clark of Holcomb showed a white ribbon and Gene Taylor of Grenada showed a white ribbon.

After the sale, we vaccinated the birds for fowl pox and also warned those that needed it.

We all agreed that the show and sale was one of the best in the history of the Sears Poultry Chain, although we expect to do better next year.

—Ray M. McGee, Ass't Co. Agent.
